

Fetch! Pet Care

May 14,2008 00:00 by Peggy Kennedy, GM of Fetch! Pe

It's Monday morning. Your boss calls you into his office and asks you to travel to your client's office in Chicago for three days, Wednesday through Friday of THIS WEEK!

That gives you two days to find someone to watch Alex, your 12 year old Labrador. You've leaned on friends and family too often, and can't bear to ask them again. How will you find a reliable pet sitter in just two days?

This is just one of the challenges affecting today's pet owners-- who by the way, account for nearly 2/3rds of our nation's population. Other challenges include:

- Long work days
- Unexpected overtime
- Long commutes/traffic
- Vacation /Emergency travel
- Pet illness/injury

This results in:

- Workers who come to work late or leave early
- Workers who cannot always commit to overtime & short notice business travel requests
- Worry or guilt about pet safety and/or home while at work
- Missed work reported to managers as sick leave or day off in order to be able to care for their pets

What if your employer actually helped you find a professional, bonded and insured pet sitter, and even negotiated a discount for you on top of that? Fox Newscorp, Sysco Food Systems, Apple, UPS, AAA, Citibank (and similarly large corporations) have partnered with pet sitting companies like Fetch Pet Care to offer discounted services to their employees and members. Pet care services such as dog walking, cat visits, in-home overnight sitting, private boarding and day care are becoming the new benefit for employees and association members while they are at work or traveling!

Want your company to offer this valuable service to you and your fellow co-workers? Contact us at (818) 206-5758 or email hollywood@fetchpetcare.com and we will work with you and your HR department to set-up a discount program.